

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

DEAL EXTENDED: West Germany has agreed to buy $1.3 billion in U.S. equipment and services over two years.

The agreement, initiated in Bonn by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and German Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel, extended through fiscal 1965 the program under which Germany makes U.S. purchases of about $650 million a year.

The program is considered important to the American effort to bring in money from abroad to balance against the heavy U.S. spending overseas.

McNamara returned to Washington Monday after a week in Germany.

MORE TIME: Congress has decided to give the National Cultural Center trustees three more years to raise from $30 million by public subscription.

The initial five-year period expires Sept. 2 with only $10 million raised to build the center.

But the House completed congressional action on the reprieve by a 293-33 vote Monday.

The bill, which now goes to the White House also raises the number of trustees from 15 to 30.

CHURCH SCHOOLS: Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said today the Kennedy administration supports restricted federal aid to church-related schools.

Ribicoff cited in a prepared Senate speech a July 3 letter from Francis Keppel, commissioner of education, that it is his view there should be "federal financial assistance to private education at all levels, using such means as are generally agreed to be constitutional."

There is a general misunderstanding, Ribicoff said, that President Kennedy opposed aid to parochial schools as unconstitutional. But he said what Kennedy opposes is across-the-board aid

Toadstool Thieves Sought In Denver

DENVER (AP) — Police are looking for thieves who took two toadstools from the yard of Edwin J. Miller's home Monday. The toadstools, two feet tall and made of solid marble, are worth $250 each, Miller told police.

and not assistance given to such projects as the building of a chemistry laboratory.

Two Students Learn Respect for River

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Ole Man River, Mississippi, is nothing to fool with, say two University of Minnesota students named Mike.

Mike DeMoss, 20, and Mike Brewer, 21, both from Minneapolis, went sightseeing in New Orleans Monday night after a 14-day, 1,200-mile trip in a 14-foot runabout with an outboard motor. "It's nothing to fool with, this river," said Mike Brewer. "We learned to respect him," said Mike DeMoss.

Sunburned and unshaven, they slept on sandbars and beaches, in tugboats, yacht clubs and even private homes. Gasoline for the motor cost $150.

"We traveled 15 hours a day and only ate once a day in order to save time," said DeMoss.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old boy with a perfectly sensible question which no one seems to be able to answer. So I am writing to you.

Why do 50-year-old people refer to themselves as "middle-aged"? How many people live to be 100 anyway? My own idea is that middle age should be half of life expectancy, which puts it at about 35.

My own parents are in the 50-year-old group and they consider themselves middle-aged. Are they trying to kid themselves — or what? Please let me know what you think about this. It's been bugging me for a long time. — SPEAKER OF THE TRUTH

Dear Speaker: When I was 17, I thought middle age was about 30. When I got to be 30 I shoved middle age up about 10 or 15 years—and I've been shoving it up ever since.

Why all this preoccupation with age, Buster? I've said it before and I'll say it again . . . it's only a number, Baby.

Dear Ann Landers: I have hunted everywhere for the newspaper that carried your column about an 11-month pregnancy. Will you such item appeared. She claims all pregnancies are about the same length of time and that people get confused for all sorts of reasons. I know she is wrong because I was pregnant with my second child for 11½ months.

Please settle this for us. Thank you.—J and R

Dear J and R: There was nothing in my column recently about an 11-month pregnancy. What you are probably referring to is a letter from a woman who complained because her friend could never get anyplace on time. She repeated the town joke — that please tell me when and where this happened?

My friend bet me $10 that no Adelle had an 11-month baby and has been late ever since.

The average full-term pregnancy is about 280 days, which is approximately nine months. This can vary several days one way or the other. But medical science has never recorded an 11½-month pregnancy. Maybe it just SEEMED that long. Honey.

Dear Ann Landers: Our son Ron is going to marry a fine girl whom I will call Anna Marie. She was born and reared in another country and her parents speak very little English. They are very foreign in their ways.

Please don't take my head off and tell me I am a snob. Our son is lucky to get this girl. Anna Marie is not only beautiful, but also brilliant and talented. She has already secured a teaching position on the staff of a conservatory and will help put Ron through law school.

The wedding will be held at a hall and the guests will be requested to bring money instead of gifts. This will appear on the invitation. I was mortified when I heard it, but apparently it is the custom in Europe. My husband says to keep my nose out of it and to let them do whatever they want.

I'm afraid when our family and friends get the invitations they will be shocked. Please tell me what to do.—M.M.M.

Dear M.M.M.: Take your husband's advice. Since you will provide the bride's mother with your guest list you'll be able to phone or drop each of your guests a line explaining the European custom. Let them know there is nothing obligatory about it.

Confidential to USED, ABUSED AND ACCUSED: Your letter was one of the most vitriolic attacks I've ever read. May I suggest that you speak more kindly of your enemies. Remember — you made them.

The Business World

Possible Gain in Economy Seen After Labor Day

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Signing of the nuclear test ban treaty may give some defense industries pause but could mean stepped up activities in others.

So many strong spots are reported elsewhere that the business world seems largely expectant of an increased, if moderate, gain in the total economy after Labor Day.

The treaty still has a long road to go in the U.S. Senate. And the skepticism expressed by many Americans as to the reliability of Russian promises could assure increased spending in forms of defense untouched by the treaty—to be ready just in case, and to meet pressure in other forms of the cold war.

Total disarmament — with its cancellation of defense orders — isn't a factor yet in any but the most long-range economic planning.

Defense Department appropriations aren't involved in any important degree, at least at present.

Rising government spending as a whole, however, is a sure thing. Corporation economists as a whole, are counting on this as one of the factors sure to bolster the economy in coming months.

The spending is going up at state and local levels as well as federal—as many taxpayers are well aware.

Even more important is the continuing large outpourings from consumers' purses and a moderate, but reassuring, rise in business spending for new equipment and plants.

Such outlays by business in recent years are now paying dividends, as the current reports of increased profits show.

The new equipment is turning out more goods per man hour, thus cutting production costs faster than wage scales have been rising.

Thanks largely to the high rate of auto sales, consumers have been increasing their total of installment debt.

Some economists worry about the stretching of payment periods in some areas, but most consider the credit gains on a firm basis. Installment debt has become a much-watched indicator of consumer psychology. It goes up when confidence is widespread. And consumer confidence is basic to economic growth.

With consumer, business and government spending all tending to rise, the outlook for the fall months is bright.

Optimists Okay Christmas Tree Sale Program

The Optimist program Tuesday noon was devoted to business of the club at which time the club voted to again have the Christmas tree project this year.

The meeting was presided over by Ed Mitchell, president, and Al Allgaier announced that a membership contest would be held, starting at once which would end Nov. 26, for which first, second and third prizes would be given.

Mitchell appointed Judge Dimmitt Hoffman as chairman of the constitution committee, to study the constitution of the club.

Invocation was given by Wray Schroeder and Joe Forsee led the group singing with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Jack Foote was introduced as a guest of Lee Deason.

Mitchell announced that Ralph Glasscock, Clinton district governor, will be the speaker at the meeting Aug. 28.

US-Hungarian Talks For Better Relations

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Premier Janos Kadar and W. Averell Harriman discussed possibilities of improving American-Hungarian relations when the U.S. assistant secretary of state was in Moscow to negotiate the nuclear test ban treaty, Kadar said Monday. Kadar told a Soviet-Hungarian friendship rally "we must realize that the American leaders do not love Hungary's government and leaders more than some years ago, yet sober and realistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

TAX BILL. The House Ways and Means Committee has recommended giving a tax break to persons with roller-coaster incomes, such as authors, entertainers, professional athletes and lawyers.

Polishing and fitting together the pieces of the tax cut and revision legislation, the committee Tuesday spelled out a provision to give special consideration to a taxpayer whose income shoots up in one year more than a third above his average for the previous four years.

Now, such an increase would put the taxpayer in a substantially higher bracket.

U.S.-HUNGARY: U.S. and Hungarian officials are conferring in Budapest on problems blocking normal diplomatic relations between the United States and that Communist country.

The two nations have exchanged only token diplomatic representation since Soviet tanks crushed Hungary's 1956 revolt.

Richard I. Phillips, State Department press officer, acknowledged Tuesday the talks are under way but said "it would not be helpful" to discuss them publicly.

PUBLIC DEFENDER: The Senate has approved a bill to provide paid counsel for defendants in federal criminal cases who are unable to pay for their own defense.

The bill, urged by President Kennedy and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, now goes to the House.

The Senate has passed public defender bills in previous Congresses only to have them die in the House.

Says 'Intellectual' Obsolescence to Go

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Missouri must shunt aside some old ideas and spend more money to attract industry if it is to keep pace with the country's economic development, Charles E. Curry, presiding judge of the Jackson County Court, told a Democratic rally Tuesday night.

"Intellectual obsolescence is our real enemy," he said. "Old forms, like arbitrary separation of overlapping city and county functions, must be tossed out like old shoes ripped at the seams and beyond repair."

"Waste in government, deadwood in the halls of public service—these must be put aside."

Military

million more than that of the House.

The increases—the first since 1958—would begin Oct. 1 under the Senate bill.

Under the Senate bill, enlisted men would get boosts of $5 to $120 monthly. Raises for officers would range from $60 to $120 monthly.

The Senate and House bills would provide similar increases for the U.S. Coast Guard, Coast and Geodetic Survey and Public Health Service, which base their pay on military schedules. This would cost the taxpayers an additional $30,084,000 annually.

Both would provide the largest dollar and percentage raises for lieutenants, captains, majors and lieutenant colonels among officers and corporals, sergeants and other skilled technicians in the enlisted grades.

But the Senate bill would apply some of these boosts to young officers and noncoms with less than two years service and give them larger increases at times in their careers when they face the decision of re-enlisting or returning to civilian life.

The House version would limit pay increases to active personnel with more than two years service. Its theory was that many short-termers are merely serving out an obligation resulting from the draft.

Approved for the first time by both Senate and House is an extra $55 a month for any officer or enlisted man on Cold War duty who is subject to enemy fire or similar hazard in such places as Viet Nam and South Korea.

A new allowance for the military man unable to take his family or dependents with him also was approved. The Senate approved a flat $30 a month. The House version could range up to $53.40.

Both bills would allow persons who retired prior to July 1, 1958—the date of the previous general military pay increase—to use the higher scales in refiguring retirement pay if it would be higher than a 6 per cent cost-of-living increase granted them.

Some 39,000 officers, including retired colonels, generals and admirals, would get increases of a few dollars to more than $5,000 a year under this provision.

The House voted to let them also benefit from a 5 per cent cost-of-living increase granted all retired personnel but the Senate eliminated this extra boost.

PURDY, Mo. (AP)—The residents of the new Barry County R2 School District are going to have to try again to elect a school board.

Eleven candidates were running for the six positions in the district's initial election Tuesday, and 508 had voted when the ballots ran out. The election was voided and a new one was set for Aug. 22.

WDAF Reports Re-submission Of Hotel Plans

KANSAS CITY (AP) — WDAF radio-TV said Tuesday night that hotel man Conrad Hilton and real estate developer Lewis Kitchen will re-submit plans for a $15½ million dollar development here which were rejected by the former city council last January.

The plans are for a seven-building complex in the Quality Hill area that would include a 1,000-room Hilton hotel and a convention center.

Hilton completed a motor hotel on a bluff overlooking the Missouri River and the Municipal Airport last August. Known as the Hilton Inn, it was termed the first phase of a master plan for the Quality Hill area.

The $15½ million second phase was approved by the city planning commission more than a year ago, but was rejected by the former city council by a 5-4 vote.

WDAF said the city council elected in April looked with favor on the project, however, and suggested that the plans be re-submitted. The station said it had learned that this would be done in the near future.

The area involved is bordered by 7th and 9th Streets, Washington and Pennsylvania Avenues.

Kitchen is president of the West Side Development Corp. of Kansas City.

He was caught with $2,336 on March 6 within 30 minutes of robbing the State Bank of Stanley, Kan., near the Missouri line about 15 miles south of Kansas City.

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles and Princess Anne, accompanied by a detective, saw the movie "Cleopatra" Tuesday night.

A detective always accompanies the royal children in public, but his presence in the theater served a double purpose.

"Cleopatra" has an "A" — for adult — certificate in Britain, meaning that children under 16 can be admitted only when accompanied by an adult.

Charles is 14. Anne is 12.

CAEN, France (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is in France to shoot scenes for a television film on D-Day, 19 years ago last June.

He stepped off a British destroyer at Cherbourg and returned to Caen, headquarters of the film makers, the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The destroyer crossed the English Channel from Portsmouth, England, where Eisenhower made scenes in his D-Day headquarters.

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Mrs. Georges Bidault passed through Lisbon, on her way to join her husband, exiled former French premier.

She said she was going to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, in response to a wire from Bidault, one of President Charles de Gaulle's bitterest foes. But she said she didn't know where her husband would meet her.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Mercedes McCambridge is seeking $50,000 damages in a personal injury suit.

She says she was injured in a fall Jan. 13 at the Masquers Club, where she was rehearsing a play. The suit, filed Monday in Superior Court, said she couldn't work for many months.

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — J. Walter Kennedy, 49, who will take over as president of the National Basketball Association Sept. 1, resigned Monday as mayor of Stamford.

QUETTA, West Pakistan (AP) — President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan warned the Western countries Monday that they would be "sorely disappointed" if they thought they could make India a bulwark against communism by helping her.

He told a rally that by arming India the West would only spread communism.

Spectacular Fire At Asbury Park

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP) — A raging fire scooped out a 550-foot section of this resort's boardwalk Tuesday. It made a charred hulk of the block-long Sunset Pavilion, housing 12 stores.

City Manager Kendal H. Lee set the damage at $1 million. Lee said he believed the fire was touched off by a cigarette that had been dropped on the boardwalk.

A 79-year-old spectator collapsed and died. Eight firemen were treated for minor injuries.

It was a spectacular show for thousands of bathers who turned their backs on the ocean and watched more than 300 firemen attack the flames. Another 10,000 persons were held back by fire lines in a two block area.

Protest Use Of Religious Singing

NEW YORK (AP)—Are jazzed-up gospel songs blasphemous? The question was debated Tuesday night in front of the Sweet Chariot, a supper club in the Times Square theater district.

A Negro religious group gathered before the club on West 46th Street and sang Negro spirituals for 2½ hours to protest the club's "prostituting of religious songs and symbols of the church."

The club's entertainers and waitresses—the latter called "angels"—and wearing skimpy costumes with wings—came outside to engage in a song duel.

"Oh, when the saints, go marching in," sang the 22 employees, in the same fashion as the jazzed-up gospel songs which the club features.

The church group responded: "Swing low, sweet chariot, comin' for to carry me home. . . ."

Theatergoers, with nothing to do during intermission, flocked over. They quickly took sides, singing with the group they championed.

"If I be lifted up," sang the church supporters.

"I don't want no coward soldiers in this land," chorused the club's group.

One "angel" carried a sign reading, "Have Gospel Song, Will Travel."

Another held a sign saying, "We practice integration — Your picketing is discrimination in reverse."

The Rev. C. S. Stamps of the Metropolitan Baptist Church in Harlem, who led the religious group, said the club was "blaspheming religious hymns." His supporters carried signs saying "Religious songs should not be used in a place of this nature."

A club spokesman said many of the so-called gospel hymns were written by Tin Pan Alley composers and are legitimate nightclub material.

Missionary Society Of First Baptist In Regular Meeting

"Turning Away From the Truth of God" was the theme used for the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society held in the auditorium Thursday evening at the First Baptist Church.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Mildred Mornberg, who also presided over a short business session.

"How Firm a Foundation" was sung by the group, led by Miss June DeWitt, with Mrs. Lola Arbogast at the piano.

The call to prayer was given by Miss Pat Perkins, a visiting missionary, from the state board. She was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Dean Morton, who also introduced Miss Sylvia Bruchman and Miss Patricia Jenkins, also visiting missionaries, taking part on the program.

Miss Patricia Jenkins had charge of the "Searching the Scriptures" and Miss Bruchman gave a very informative talk on "Babai World Faith."

Other informative talks were given by Mrs. George Arquitt who talked about Islam, Mormonism by Miss Linda Ream and Southern Baptist in the Mormon Kingdom by Mary Ellen Fowler.

Miss June DeWitt sang a solo, "No Other Name" accompanied by Mrs. Fred Arbogast at the piano.

The meeting closed with a prayer by Mrs. John Goddard.

Goldwater Tires Of GOP Knocks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater called on Republicans today to "stop chewing on each other and start chewing on the Democrats."

That was the Arizona Republican's reply to the action of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on Monday in sidestepping an Albany news conference question on whether he will back Goldwater for president if the latter becomes the 1964 GOP nominee.

All Rockefeller would say was: "We've got a long way to go." The governor also raised again the issue of whether Goldwater is a "captive of the radical right."

Asked about this in an interview, Goldwater said he is getting tired of Republicans knocking other Republicans. He said that's just what the Democrats want them to do.

"It's time for us Republicans to stop chewing on each other and start chewing on the Democrats," he said. "The Democrats are better fed now that they are in power and they are getting soft. We ought to get our teeth into them."

Asked if he will support Rockefeller if the New York Governor becomes the 1964 nominee, Goldwater said "he hasn't even announced that he is available." He added that he wants to wait and see what happens.

"I have a habit of supporting Republican presidential nominees unless they are personally obnoxious to me, and that hasn't happened in a long time," Goldwater said.

Could Rockefeller be classified as personally obnoxious to him? No, the senator didn't think so.

Rockefeller was reminded by a reporter that he had said in a previous statement that voters should have an alternative to President Kennedy's administration and would not find it in the radical right. Would Goldwater provide such an alternative, he was asked.

"Not if he were a captive of the radical right," was the reply.

Goldwater, asked if he is a captive of the radical right, replied "I'm not the captive of anyone."

"I don't get mad very easily. It doesn't pay."

But Goldwater complained that he doesn't know how Rockefeller defines the radical right.

"I think Gov. Rockefeller would do the country a great favor if he would explain his interpretation of the so-called 'radical right,'" Goldwater said. "Then we would know where we are going. He keeps talking about it, but he doesn't say what he means."

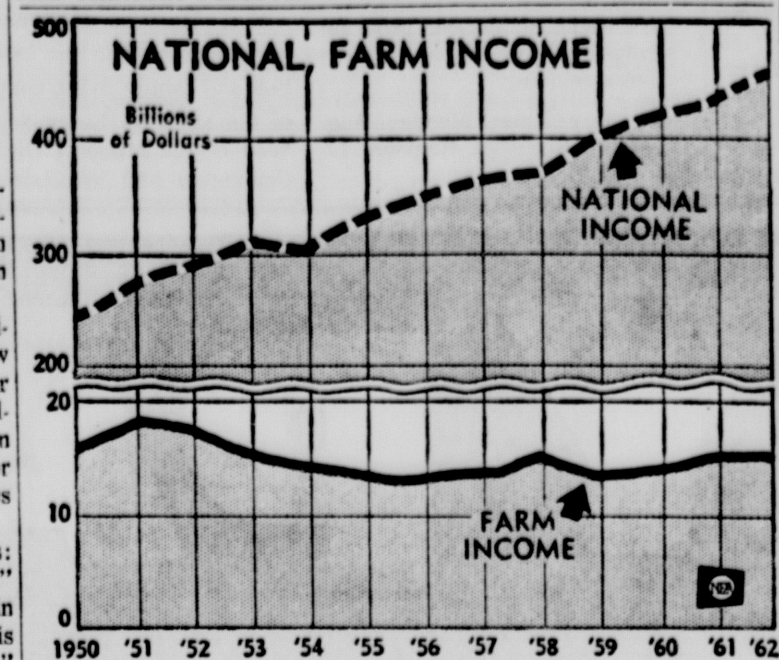

The Arizona Senator said that if Rockefeller is talking about John Birch Society members, he is not going to denounce him but only their leader, Robert H. W. Welch Jr.

"I've been denouncing him for the last two and a half years," he said.

May Not Be Able To Stop a Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP)—A survey made for the Senate leadership shows that only 55 senators—12 short of the necessary two-thirds—would vote now to end any Southern filibuster against President Kennedy's civil rights bill, the Washington Post reported today.

Staff writer Robert Albright wrote that substantial modification of the key public accommodations section may be necessary to win additional support from Republicans and border state Democrats.

Near Revolt Revealed In Red China

TOGYO (AP)—The U. S. State Department's publication of documents telling of unrest and near-revolt in Red China's army in 1960-61 confirms what the Chinese themselves have hinted—there was major trouble. The documents also substantiate outside assessments of what the shapes and changes of that time and earlier meant. The beginning of the Red army disaffection dates from 1955, when party chairman Mao Tse-tung, Red China boss, started a speed-up industrial and agricultural program to bring peasants into a vast network of rural communes.

Mao took the drastic step against the advice of Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Marshal Peng Teh-huai, defense minister, recognized that Mao's dispute with Khrushchev could lead to withdrawal of Soviet help to the Chinese army. Peng opposed Mao's plan and was reported to have communicated his views to Khrushchev.

He was dismissed in September 1959 and his name has not been mentioned by the Chinese since. Gen. Huang Kuo-cheng, Peng's army chief of staff, was fired at the same time. His disgrace was completed in September 1962 when he was fired from the secretariat of the Communist party Central Committee along with Gen. Tan Cheng, head of the army's chief political department. Khrushchev is said to have attacked the Chinese leaders sharply in 1960 for dropping Peng. From that time on, the Chinese now have disclosed Soviet aid to China stopped. There are more than 50,000 producing oil wells in the United States.

Panaceas, Anyone?...

So these two businessmen were settling the big issues of the day as they rode to work. "It's about time," said one, "that these guys in Washington wake up to what's really going on in this country and around the world. Between the White House and Congress, we're getting nowhere fast. The country is really in a mess."

The other man nodded. "Things are rough, all right," he said. "But I'd sure hate to be the ones who have to try to straighten them out."

So would we all. Most any one of us can call the shots when we're sitting on the sidelines and no one is keeping score on us. But how many of us would welcome the responsibility of having a voice of authority in rendering judgment and final decisions in such problems as:

The railroad's management-labor problem? The racial unrest throughout the country?

The continuous and insistent tug between management and labor erupting into open breaks around the country from day to day?

The relation of the nuclear test ban treaty to a nonaggression pact? Who would want to try to guess right on this?

The controversial federal aid to schools issue?

Tax cuts and tax reforms?

The unemployment situation and the national economy?

The farm problem?

The population explosion and birth control? And on and on and on.

We mention those headaches—only a few of the scores that plague the administration and the lawmakers in Washington—not to excuse any errors of judgment or action that may be made, but to emphasize the scope and size of the tremendous task facing our national leaders.

The freedom to second guess and to serve as Monday morning quarterbacks is an inalienable right of every American. But there is also the obligation to help solve those problems by individual effort, sober judgment, calm action, fair play and loyal citizenship.

Contrary to what we may be told or what we may think at times, the voice of the people still prevails in America. Each of us is part of that voice. Each of us is part of America.

The World Today

Irony In Stevenson's Soviet Trip

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai Stevenson was just part of the American delegation which went to Moscow this week for the signing of the limited nuclear test ban agreement. But his satisfaction must have been special and ironic.

The second time he ran for the presidency, in 1956, he proposed a nuclear test ban. He wasn't the first to do it. But as the campaign neared its end this became the biggest issue. It didn't do him any good.

That wasn't the only irony in the story. The Soviets made the suggestion before he did, on Nov. 29, 1955, proposing that the countries with nuclear weapons pledge to discontinue their testing.

Nikita Khrushchev suggested it again in February 1956. And on April 12 of that year Thomas E. Murray, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, suggested the United States stop testing H-bombs.

Stevenson picked up Murray's idea and seconded it on April 21. That was before he got the nomination.

All through the campaign, Stevenson hammered away at the idea, which seemed to develop in his mind as he went along. At first he seemed simply to suggest that this country stop the tests unilaterally and ask the Soviet Union to do the same.

In time he seemed to think there should be an agreement with Moscow before this country stopped, although he didn't quite say that. But he said the United States should take the lead in stopping hydrogen bomb tests.

And on Sept. 30, 1956, he said "I have proposed a moratorium" on the tests and "if the Russians don't go along... we will know it... because we can detect H-bomb explosions without inspection." Later he talked of "agreement" to end the tests.

President Eisenhower wanted no part of the Stevenson-Murray proposition. He clamped down on them fast, in April, before the campaign and even before he knew Stevenson would be running against him.

He said this country needed to do research both on H-bombs and missiles to carry them and research without tests would be "perfectly useless—a waste of money."

The Eisenhower administration wanted some way to check, or inspect, to prevent cheating. Stevenson's point was that explosions would be known anyway.

Ex-president Truman backed Eisenhower. He said the Soviets couldn't be trusted to keep an agreement. But last week he approved the agreement just made with Moscow. He said "we are duty bound to explore every opportunity to put an end to this armament race."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon excoriated Stevenson for his proposal in the 1956 campaign. He called it "catastrophic nonsense." He said it did not protect "Americans from nuclear bombing because it lacks the essential ingredient of inspection."

But last week in Europe and again Tuesday night on his return to New York, Nixon said he feels sure the Senate will approve the agreement just reached with the Soviet Union although it has no provision for inspection.

And in the middle of the 1956 campaign, Soviet Premier Bulganin wrote to Eisenhower and, without saying so, supported Stevenson by suggesting the big powers at least agree on banning tests, even if they couldn't agree on anything else.

Eisenhower bawled him out for

FROM YOUR STATE
CAPITOLVarious State Problems
Will Be Investigated

The 72nd General Assembly, which adjourned last month, set up a number of committees to investigate various problems confronting the state and report to the legislature when it reconvenes in 1965.

In addition, there are several continuing committees and commissions which will be conducting studies on atomic energy, correctional institutions, handicapped persons, local government, the need for reorganizing state offices, water supply, Missouri participation in the World's Fair and restoration of the first state capitol at St. Charles.

During this interim period a total of 17 commissions and joint committees will function. Commissions are composed of legislators and lay members appointed by the governor while committees include only legislators and ex officio members.

Expenses incurred by these groups generally come out of the joint contingent fund but several bodies have their own appropriations.

The Atomic Energy Commission was established by the 70th General Assembly in 1959 but two years later became a permanent body with its own funds. Similarly, the Commission on Local Government, set up in 1961, is a permanent group.

The Coordinating Commission for the Handicapped originally was to function only until 1962 but was extended until 1966 by the General Assembly in 1961. This past spring, the legislature established a new State Reorganization Commission, dubbed the "Little Hoover Commission," which will determine the amount of duplication present in the state government. It will function until 1965.

Here briefly is a description of the pending activities of these interim committees:

AGE DISCRIMINATION
Under House Concurrent Resolution 1, a Committee on Age Discrimination in Employment was set up to study the practices in Missouri of persons being refused employment or being discharged because they've reached the age of 45. The committee is composed of five senators and five representatives and will report its findings to the next session of the legislature.

EDUCATIONAL TELEVISION
The Committee on Educational Television, created by HCR 28, is an outgrowth of legislation proposed by Governor Dalton for setting up a statewide educational television network. The committee is to study the needs for such an operations and report its findings in 1965. A program proposed by the governor failed to pass this year, with many legislators commenting that such a set up was merely a frill. This committee will determine if this is true.

EDUCATION LAWS
Senate Concurrent Resolution 9 stating that the need exists for a complete study of Missouri's election laws, set up the Committee on Election Laws in an effort to rid the state of obsolete and ineffectual election procedures. This committee will undertake a comprehensive study of current election laws here with comparisons likely with other states. Recommendations, if any are forth coming, will be made to the legislature in 1965.

CRIMINAL LAWS
Citing a lack of time in past efforts to study Missouri's criminal laws, SCR 22 establishes the Committee on Criminal Law to carry on these studies. The resolution charges the committee members to make a thorough study and determine the amount of revision needed to modernize the state's criminal code.

INSURANCE
A Committee on Insurance was created by SCR 14 which noted that members of the General Assembly are "ill equipped" to deal adequately with measures concerning insurance laws, although a number of such legislation was introduced this year. The Committee on Insurance is to make a much needed survey of laws governing insurance and issue a report in 1965.

MARKETING AND MERCHANDISING
It has been rumored that the Committee on Marketing and Commodity Merchandising was set up as a means of getting a new "Bread Bill" through the legislature. Ostensibly, the committee would look into ways of improving methods and programs involved in marketing farm products. An outgrowth of such a study, the resolution hints, could be an increase in the number of canneries in Missouri. The "Bread Bill," which passed the House this spring only to die in the Senate, was designed to regulate bread prices and marketing procedures.

STATE HOSPITALS
Noting reports of irregularities at State Hospital No. 2 in St. Joseph, the legislature adopted a resolution calling for a "complete and unbiased investigation of the condition within the hospital." One report indicated that a member of the hospital staff was attacked by several patients and that others were allowed to roam freely on and off hospital grounds. It is expected that the hearings of this committee will be widely publicized, with other State Hospitals possibly being scrutinized later.

METROPOLITAN CONDITIONS
With more and more persons leaving the rural areas of Missouri and heading for the metropolitan areas, the General Assembly adopted a resolution to look into the economic conditions surrounding the large population centers. The resolution noted that the state's economy as a whole is largely influenced by the financial situation of these centers and that little previous study has been concentrated on the industrial development and growth of these parts of the state. A report is to be issued but the resolution does not indicate when.

TOURIST TRADE
Next to agriculture, the tourist trade in Missouri is supposed to be the state's biggest money maker. With this in mind, the General Assembly agreed that a study was needed in order that a coordinating plan might be developed to milk more money out of this growing industry. The Committee on Tourist Trade in Missouri will look into this situation, reviewing existing programs and determining how best the state's image might be reflected, tourist-wise.

TRAFFIC LAWS
In 1926 the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety developed a Uniform Vehicle Code aimed at lowering traffic fatalities and unifying vehicular laws among the various states. Needless to say, the "Code" has had very little effect on the number of traffic deaths in Missouri in particular and the country in general. The Committee on Uniform Traffic Laws is to look into this problem and report its findings along with recommended legislation in January 1965.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION
Problems dealing with workmen's compensation always seem to be a thorn in the side of the Missouri legislature. Noting that laws governing this have not been revised for a great number of years, the legislature set up the Committee on Workmen's Compensation which will look into recent developments in the field of industry and labor and report its findings as well as recommend remedies.

LEGISLATIVE OVERSIGHT
The Committee on Legislative Oversight was created because members of the General Assembly felt they didn't have sufficient facilities available for gathering "detailed and factual information regarding the current operations" of the state. This committee will delve into such matters as revising the account methods of any state agency and audit the books of any disbursing officer of the state.

Although most of these resolutions state that a report should be made to the legislature when it meets again in 1965, this is not always done. In fact, in the past not all interim committees issued a report and some reportedly failed to meet.

Guest Editorial

RALEIGH (N.C.) NEWS-OBSERVER: The Ever Popular Sale.—It may seem incongruous amid our glittering media of entertainment and all our plush gimmicks, but the impulse to attend sales of household and kitchen furniture and odds and ends is still a compelling force in eastern North Carolina.

A sale may last all day but many who stay all day didn't expect to when they arrived. They were going to "visit" a few minutes, but they were fastened by the excitement and the grass-roots drama.

A spirited mellowness envelopes the crowds. One city visitor buys a bunch of battered dippers for a quarter and acts as if he got the Mona Lisa for trading stamps. And a lady who sleeps under an electric blanket enters briskly into the bidding for an ancient buggy-robe.

Aside from the local office holders, everyone is merry as a lone kid at an Easter egg hunt. The office holders have to bid on stuff because otherwise they'd be called tight-wads, but they are terrified they might accidentally put the top bid on a busted lantern some voter covets. And there is always one fellow who holds up his hand 100 times but manages to get it down before the last bid. At home he tells his wife he had fine luck at the sale. He bid on everything and didn't come close to getting stuck but once.

Congressmen Aid Racketeers

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON—In a search through federal crime files, this column has come across the names of four members of Congress who have tried to save mobsters from deportation.

These were not obscure hoodlums who could easily pass themselves off as aggrieved constituents. They were big-time, big-money racketeers with international police records.

Case No. 1—Congressman Mike Kirwan, the tough, twinkling Irishman from Youngstown, Ohio, introduced a private bill to save Frank Cammarata from exile.

The Sicilian-born Cammarata, lean and mean, is a graduate of Detroit's infamous purple gang. He is described in the federal rogues' gallery as "a killer, holdup man and narcotics distributor."

Congress failed to share Kirwan's benevolent attitude toward the mobster, and in 1958, Cammarata skipped to Cuba in order to avoid deportation to Italy.

He soon fell into the clutches of dictator Fidel Castro who had Cammarata arrested for possessing cocaine. But word got back to U.S. narcotics officials that the racketeer's real offense was smuggling drugs without giving the Castro government its cut.

Castro Cops Mobster

FBI files tell a fascinating account of how the bearded Cuban dictator tried to take over Cammarata's operation. He used two renegade American hoodlums to try to trick Cammarata into disclosing where he got the stuff and how he disposed of it in the United States.

One of the hoods, who used the alias of Carl Weston, actually was planted in Cammarata's cell to win his confidence. But the wily racketeer was too experienced at keeping his mouth shut and didn't tumble for the ruse.

Case No. 2—Louisiana's likeable Congressman Jimmy Morrison introduced a private bill to stop the deportation of New Orleans mobster Silvestro Carollo.

A darkly menacing fellow with black, thinning hair and a long curving face, Carollo is currently No. 34 on the international list of narcotics violators.

"This man," says the confidential report under his mug shot, "is a dangerous man and has been connected with narcotics traffic for many years."

His arrests go back to 1923 and encompass everything from swindling to the attempted murder of a narcotics agent.

Again, Congress learned the truth about the man in time to pigeon-hole Morrison's bill. Carollo was deported to his native village of Terrasini, Sicily, where he now operates the biggest bar in town.

Gangster's Shrimp Luncheons

Parenthetically, Carollo isn't Morrison's only acquaintance on the shady side of the law. The handsome, happy-go-lucky lawmaker used to be a frequent guest of underworld lobbyist Murray Off at shrimp luncheons. On at least one occasion, Morrison arranged a good time in Las Vegas for a group of congressional secretaries.

Case No. 3—Olin "The Solon" Johnston, the South Carolina senator, somehow was persuaded to introduce a private bill for the special benefit of Nicolo Impastato, one of Kansas City's most notorious gangsters.

Impastato is a light, thin-faced, shy-looking man who wears rimless glasses and resembles a college professor more than a crime czar. But beneath his mug shot in the federal rogues' gallery appears this ominous passage:

"Has been known to use violence, including murder, to maintain his organization; though deported, he still has an income from rackets in the United States."

Racketeer Farmer

When Johnston's bill failed to save him, Impastato slipped across the border into Mexico to continue directing his operations from the Mexican side. However, the Mexican authorities obligingly deported him to Italy, saving Uncle Sam the trouble.

He now operates a farm outside the same village of Terrasini where Carollo lives and laments.

Case No. 4—Congressman George O'Brien, recently retired by his Detroit constituents, dropped a private bill into the House hopper to keep racketeer Ralph Cansavo in this country.

The slender, blue-eyed, fair-haired mobster actually has been deported three times but keeps bouncing back. His niche in the hall of infamy is assured by this caption beneath his mug shot:

"A hardened criminal who has never had a legitimate source of income; has engaged in counterfeiting and narcotics trafficking for many years."

These are strange constituents, indeed, to be on such good terms with the men who make the laws they break.

They're all yours!

Springfield Ousts Whiteman AFB 3-1 in 11 Inning Semi-Pro Game

Homer Accounts For Lone Whiteman Score

Larry Foley, with 26 strikeouts, led his Springfield Pointexter Tile team to a 3-1, 11 inning victory over Whiteman AFB in the first game Tuesday night in the state semi-pro baseball tournament.

Whiteman's lone run came on a home run in the fourth by shortstop Jim Hassett. The homer, tenth of the tournament, went over the left field wall near the 321 foot mark. It was Hassett's second homer of the tournament, with his first one against Concordia on Friday night.

The only walk allowed by Foley in his spectacular performance was in the bottom of the eleventh against Hassett.

The loss eliminates Whiteman from the tourney, with Springfield to continue in the tourney, meeting the winner of tonight's Iberia-Stockton game at 9 p.m. Thursday.

In the bottom of the fourth, Whiteman's leadoff batter, Jim Hassett, clobbered the tenth home run of the tourney over the left field wall near the 321 foot mark. Dan Long followed up with a base hit and took second on a sacrifice but Springfield hurler Larry Foley retired the side.

The Pointexter tile men came back with one run to tie the score in the top of the sixth with two outs. Bob Turner reached first on a bad throw by the shortstop. He stole second, and scored on a single into center by Oliver Smith. Smith stole second, but Bob Kiser bounced out to end the rally.

Springfield broke the tie with a two-run rally in the top of the eleventh. With two men out and Don Magnus on second after walking and advancing on a sacrifice, Paul Hanna slammed a double to center, scoring a run. Gene Bridges reached first on an error by the shortstop, putting runners at first and third. Pitcher Larry Foley then put a base hit into right, scoring the second run. The runners went to second and third on

HIT THE DIRT—Tony Taylor of the Philadelphia Phillies gets a face full of dirt as he tries vainly to get back to first base at the Polo Grounds on Roger Craig's pickoff throw to Tim Larkness of the New York Mets.

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia football Coach Johnny Griffith has testified he believed last fall that someone fed information on his team to rival Alabama before their 1962 game.

Griffith's testimony came Tuesday in the federal court trial of a $10-million libel suit by Wally Butts, former Georgia athletic director, against Curtis Publishing Co.

The suit resulted from an article in the Saturday Evening Post, published by Curtis, which charged the Alabama-Georgia game was rigged by Butts and Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama.

Griffith, followed to the stand today by two of his assistant coaches, read notes which an insurance salesman said he took while listening to a Butts-Bryant telephone conversation nine days before the game.

The salesman, George P. Burnett, said he was accidentally cut into the call and heard Butts giving data to Bryant.

Griffith testified the notes contained the only two playing formations used by his squad in the Alabama game.

Griffith said it was his opinion that the information would be helpful if an opponent knew no other formations would be used.

On cross-examination Griffith said, however, the formations themselves were nothing new and were employed by Alabama and nearly or all other Southeastern Conference teams.

The coach said he believed somebody had been giving information to Alabama but that he never said "We had no idea it was Wally Butts"—as he was quoted by the Post.

Griffith said Butts gave him his first Georgia coaching job and helped him financially. He said Butts loaned him money and signed bank notes for him. Griffith said he still owed Butts $350.

At Surf Club

Plans for a competitive swimming clinic and demonstration to be held at the Sedalia Surf Club pool were announced Tuesday.

The demonstration will be conducted Saturday, Aug. 10, starting at 6 p.m.

The clinic will be conducted by Dave Kerridge, coach of several swim teams from Columbia. Aiding him in the session will be boy and girl swimmers of the different age divisions representing his team.

The purpose of the event is to offer instruction and information to swimmers and parents of swimmers interested in a competitive swimming program.

Anyone interested in such activity is cordially invited to attend.

In Loss to Kansas City

Wilhelm Confuses Entire Ball Field

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Hoyt Wilhelm the 40-year-old knuckleball specialist on whose aging arm rest the American League hopes of the Chicago White Sox, confused batter, catcher and official scorer alike in a 4-3 loss to Kansas City Tuesday night.

The score was tied 3-3 going into the bottom of the ninth when Wilhelm let go with a flutterball that flew past batter Gino Cimoli.

The passed ball ruling was changed and Wilhelm was credited with another wild pitch to go along with his 2-7 record and 2.90 earned run average. And that is part of the reason the White Sox trail front-running New York by eight games.

The Yankees got a brilliant pitching performance from Stan Williams, who hurled a 1-0, one-hit shutout over Washington after the Senators won the opener of a two-nighter 8-5 on a tour homer barrage against Whitey Ford.

Third-place Baltimore, 8 1/2 back, whipped Cleveland 6-4 as Jim Gentile drove in four runs with a pair of homers. Detroit rookie George Smith collected a triple and two doubles in a 10-1 wallop against Boston and Minnesota.

Two homers helped Kiwanis majors take a 14-8 victory from Ice majors in the second game at Liberty Park. Herby Jones pounded one home run and David Pirtle clobbered a grand slam homer for the Kiwanis cause.

David Bass knocked a two-run home run for Ice in that game also. Jim Cramer was the winning pitcher, with Larry Brownfield walking away with the loss.

In a playoff game at Housel Park, Elks handed Sedalia Ice a 14-3 loss with the winner taking second place in the B league and the loser third. John Coxon took the pitching laurels for Elks, while Earl Buckner was credited with the loss.

On cross-examination Griffith said, however, the formations themselves were nothing new and were employed by Alabama and nearly or all other Southeastern Conference teams.

The coach said he believed somebody had been giving information to Alabama but that he never said "We had no idea it was Wally Butts"—as he was quoted by the Post.

Griffith said Butts gave him his first Georgia coaching job and helped him financially. He said Butts loaned him money and signed bank notes for him. Griffith said he still owed Butts $350.

Griffith testified the notes contained the only two playing formations used by his squad in the Alabama game.

Kansas City and St. Louis posted identical 4-3 victories Tuesday night. The A's won their game with the Chicago White Sox in the last of the ninth on two wild pitches and a pinch single by George Alusik.

Magnificent Rating Back To Willie

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

He may have been woeful Willie for a while, but there's no doubt that he's once again the magnificent Mays.

Willie admitted at All-Star Game time that he was pretty woeful about his sub-par .271 batting average, far below his .315 lifetime mark and one of his poorest half-year showings in the majors.

But the San Francisco Giant centerfielder in the last few weeks has been the Mays of old. At the moment he's in one of his periodic batting binges, with a 10-game streak in which he's batting .400.

That spurt has boosted his average to .290 and has helped keep the Giants in the running in the National League.

Willie had three hits, including a triple, and scored once Tuesday in the Giants' 3-1 victory over Houston, which kept them in a tie with St. Louis for second place, five games back of leading Los Angeles.

The Dodgers kept their lead with a 4-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. St. Louis held off New York's Mets 4-3. Pittsburgh blanked Milwaukee 3-0 and Cincinnati and Philadelphia split the Reds winning the first 6-4 in 10 innings and the Phillies the nightcap 7-1.

Mays' three hit performance against the Colts gave him six hits in the last two games and 18 for 45 in his current streak. In that stretch, he has scored 13 runs driven in 11 and had two doubles, two triples and six homers, boosting his season total to 28.

Jim Duffalo, 4-0, stopped the Colts on six hits, but needed the sharp relief help of Don Larsen in the ninth.

Shortstop Maury Wills stroked four straight hits, including a double in leading the Dodgers over the Cubs. Don Drysdale won his 14th.

St. Louis had 11 hits, but had to work hard to stand off the Mets, who were down 4-1 but scrambled back. The Cards scored their first run on a fielders choice when Stan Musial beat a throw to first on a potential double play grounder and their second on a wild pitch. The third was set up by a wild pitch and the fourth was moved into position by a base on balls.

The Phillies pounced on Joey Jay for six doubles and a triple and lefty Dennis Bennett limited the Reds to three hits in the nightcap at Philadelphia.

In the opener, Philadelphia's relief ace Jack Baldschun let in two runs in the top of the 10th with an error and a wild pitch. Pete Rose had a triple and a two-run homer for the Reds.

The Pirates' Don Cardwell checked Milwaukee on three hits for eight innings, but had to have help from Al McBean in the ninth. The Pirates got all their runs in seventh with a double by Donn Clendenon and singles by Jim Pagliaroni and Johnny Logan the key hits.

Optimism For Haitian Invasion

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Leon Cantave, wife of the Haitian rebel general, says the invasion of their homeland must be very important to him—he started it on their 13th wedding anniversary.

Her husband, exiled former chief of staff of the Haitian armed forces, led invaders ashore on Monday north of Port au Prince, capital of Haiti and stronghold of dictator Francois Duvalier.

Never more than a few feet from a short-wave radio, Renee Cantave listened for news of the fighting Tuesday night while talking to a reporter in her Manhattan apartment.

Speaking in eloquent French, Mrs. Cantave denounced Duvalier as a "blood-thirsty killer."

"We will win, I know we shall," she said.

"I hope all democratic countries will give my husband aid in his attempt to restore freedom and democratic government to my country," she said. "This has been foremost in his mind since we were exiled six years ago."

She said when her husband left here last week he told her only "Pray for us and be strong because I live with a firm conviction that we will win."

Mrs. Cantave said she and the

St. Louis Dentist Found Dead in Office

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Someone shot and killed a St. Louis dentist Tuesday and left him lying in a pool of blood with $735 untouched in a trouser pocket.

Detectives said Dr. Charles E. Line, 64, of suburban University City was shot once under the left arm pit with a small caliber bullet.

"The killing is a mystery. We've got everyone in the division working on it," a detective said.

No weapon was found in the office.

A solicitor for the Merchants Business Service, Charles Beike of suburban Maplewood found the dentist's body in Line's southwest St. Louis office. Beike told police he had a business appointment with Dr. Line.

AUTUMN STYLES: Paris designers have sent the hemline wandering for the first time in a few years. Jacques Heim has created this giant black and white plaid tweed coat with matching booties, left. The hemline hits the leg four inches below the knee—three more than last season. Honey cashmere coat, right, by Chanel ends just one inch below the knee. Coat is lined in quilted satin and trimmed with red fox.

Peter Sellers Sees Life With a Question Mark

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Peter Sellers, regarded by many as Britain's dearest comic actor, looks at life with a big question mark in his eyes.

Wherever he is, he seems faintly puzzled to be there.

"I'm a very serious person in my private life — the unfunniest person alive," he said.

"Humor tends to make you melancholy, because comedy is the most serious form of acting. People who specialize in it become morose."

Peter is noted for his wide range of roles. He has played everything from a duchess to a union leader in such films as "The Mouse That Roared," "I'm All Right, Jack," and "Heaven's Above."

In his first American-made picture, "The World of Henry Orient," he portrays a fumble-fingered pianist who would rather chase married women than give concerts.

Since his parents, his grandmother and eight uncles had been in show business, it was perhaps inevitable that Sellers would get in the act, too. He started on the ground floor—as a theater sweeper.

During World War II he loaded Royal Air Force planes with bullets and bombs.

"It was short of a dead end," he remarked. "I didn't see much future doing that on civvy street."

Self-taught, Peter developed his gift for mimicry by appearing in camp shows. Then he became a vaudeville, radio and television star before making his first picture, "Let's Go Crazy," in 1950.

"It was so bad it never was released and it bloody well never will be," he said. "I bought it out myself to make sure."

What is the real Peter Sellers like? Wearing dark-rimmed eyeglasses, and looking like a curly haired owl surprised by daylight, the actor, 37, found it a bit embarrassing to talk about himself.

He is no playboy.

"The big problem of men my age is to avoid coronary attacks and still achieve success," he said.

"I like to be alone a lot when I'm working, because I concentrate a lot and involve myself completely. You have to. This is a highly overpaid profession; therefore one owes it to the public to give the best one can, and this requires complete dedication."

"I like driving at night in precision-made cars" (Peter has owned more than 50), photographing people in candid situations, getting plenty of sleep, I need eight or nine hours or I'm finished, watching and reading other humorists."

This is the creed he lives by:

"The only way to succeed — to be happy with yourself — is through kindness. I will do anything for anybody who asks me, but if I am told to do it, I revolt against it."

"I don't believe in an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, but I haven't quite reached the point where I can turn the other cheek."
